"If we don't make our Carmel Business District quota in this year's Community Chest Drive, something's mighty odd," said realtor Dick Catlin when asked how the drive was going among Carmel's 400 odd business contributors.

"We've got about twice as many men covering the business district this year as last, and we have the same 25% increase in quota that every other community has."

Dick asked each man to take one block and cover each of the business houses on the four sides. Including himself, there are "20 stalwart men and bold, as ruddy as the King's henchmen, all". Among these are Clem Trapkus, Charles Strosnider, Stan Ewig, Walter Phelps, Bob Little, and Howard Levinson.

Joining this initial group were Bill Aldous, John Donovan, Joseph Sesnon, C. E. Wagenman and Bill Brady.

And finally just to make sure of an outstanding success in this year's drive, Dick found eight yeomen who would volunteer their help: Mark Raggett, Dale Leidig, Bill Cranston, George Yates, Augie Nieto, Ben Kuperman and the brothers Klepich, Fred and Anthony.

Zone C-2 Wins Final In Schultz Bout With Board; Livingston Jr. Disgruntled

Architect William Cranston, representing Mrs. Dorothy Schultz, left yesterday afternoon's Planning Commission meeting with permission for his client to construct a seven store - 12 apartment building on the Junipero Street site formerly occupied by the Bettie Greene Stables. Granting of the building permit ended three months' controversy over the Schultz building, considered by the Planning Commission an incompatible land use in the C-2 (commercial services—light industry) zone; judged compatible by the city council when Mrs. Schultz appealed the Planning Commission ruling to the council, and held over from last week's Commission meeting for deeper setbacks on street frontage and an off-street loading zone for the stores.

Construction of the two story building designed about central off-street parking spaces will begin within 120 days.

The Schultz case informally decided the future of Carmel's C-2 zone as the City Council made it plain in a joint meeting with the Planning Commission that the council does not favor restriction of the area to commercial service uses only and does favor multiple dwelling-store combinations such as the Schultz building, although probably opposed to motels or residences in C-2.

A letter from City Planner Lawrence Livingston Jr., was held over for consideration until the next study session of the Commission. Livingston's letter was in answer to one sent to him by Commissioner Dora Comstock conveying the City Council's unofficial decision favoring no mutually restricted C-2 zone stated by council members in discussion of the Schultz building.

In the letter Livingston maintains any multiple dwelling becomes tourist accommodation in "the season" and is therefore a potential motel. He also deplores the removal of the mutually restricted zoning in C-2 considering it "inconvenient" for Carmel citi-

Hunter (4-Year Old) With Beagle Wins Hallowe'en Prize

Four-year-old Berit Keeble, dressed as a hunter, carrying a toy shot gun, and followed by her faithful live beagle, won the grand prize of a $25 savings bond at the Kiwanis Hallowe'en party at Sunset School last night.

Four hundred children in costume paraded across the reviewing stand for judges Mayor Horace Lyon, Sunset PTA president Mrs. Frank Palmer, and Paul McKinstry to decide the winners in each class.

In the 0-3 years class, one year old Sandy Price in a red and white clown suit and Sandy Harber as a little Dutch Girl, were judged best. Grand prize winner Berit Keeble also won the 4-6 years class. Shirley Harrah and Pamela Martin, dressed as twin cornstalks, carried off the award in the 7-9 years group; and Frank Faulkner as a voting booth was winner among the 10 years and up division.

GET OUT AND VOTE

Pop Smith, Carmel election official for many years, gives below his pre-election directive to Carmel voters.

"Now is the time for all good Republicans and Democrats to come to the aid of their respective parties. It is not only a duty, but a privilege, to have a say in the election of the man you think will guide the destinies of your glorious country. Please get out and vote for the man of your choice. I always urge those who are not employed to go to the polls in the morning between 10:00 o'clock and noon, and in the afternoon between 2:00 o'clock and 5:00. This gives workers a chance to vote during their free hours.

"Please bring your sample ballots, marked at home. Don't forget, November 6."

Craig P. Smith of San Francisco was elected president of the California State Hotel Association at its 45th annual convention here yesterday.

Smith is owner-operator of the Commodore and Biltmore Hotels in San Francisco and the Carmel Valley Inn in Carmel Valley. He is also management consultant to several California hotels including the Hacienda group operating the largest motel in California at Fresno.

Smith is past president of the California Northern Hotel Association and has been active in the Hotel Greeters Association.

He pointed out that during his administration he will energetically pursue all plans to stimulate tourist travel to California and improve California hotel accommodations for visitors.

Other officers elected at the convention for the coming year were Harold Smith of Santa Barbara, first vice president, and Willard Abel of San Francisco, 2nd vice president.

More than 500 hotel men and their wives from all parts of the state attended the convention which was staged in the Del Monte Lodge and La Playa Hotels.

We Walked In The Vienna Woods Yesterday At Sunset

Former City Clerk Peter Mawdsley and Mrs. Mawdsley, touring Europe, write from Vienna:

Dear Cliff and Wilma:

Next Tuesday morning we cross the whole of Austria by train, to Switzerland via Salzburg and Innsbruck for Zurich, Lucerne, Interlaken, Montreux and Geneva, after five and a half days of sightseeing.

We walked in the Vienna Woods yesterday near sunset. They are very lovely and very extensive, (30 miles by 12 miles), so most of our tour was in a sightseeing bus. We drove along the blue (sic) Danube to the Wahlenberg, (1000 feet above Vienna) from which we had a good sunset view of the whole city and River Danube. Unlike Mark Twain we saw the view! (He missed the view but viewed the mist.) On a city tour we saw all the monuments commemorating the composers, poets and artists and the oustanding men of Austria. (Beethoven, Schubert, Mozart, Strauss, Goethe, the Hapsburgs, etc.) Also went through the Schoenbrunn, the former Imperial summer residence.

We think, however, that our best trip in Austria was the one from Salzburg that took us back into Germany to Berchtesgaden and Berghof, where Hitler and his top men had their summer places. I sent you a map . . . we saw all of it! Note in the center, No. 2 Hotel Zum Tierken. There we entered the one remaining underground bunker or air raid shelter. All the others have been closed off. We descended by a steep circular stone staircase (They had elevators, of course) and followed the course I have marked between start and finish. A rapid stream of clear water flows through a concrete channel with wooden covering, open here and there for inspection. We went through all the rooms, now bare and empty concrete vaults, dismantled of all plumbing and fixtures except bare electric lights. If you read the description on the map of the bunk-

Kids Must Mow Lawn For Hallowe'en Prank

Nine Juveniles were picked up and booked last night by Carmel Police and the Sheriff's office. Three of the youths were from Carmel, one from Carmel Valley and the other five from out of town.

Carmel police formally arrested four out of town boys for prowling and malicious mischief. Several local Hallowe'en celebrants with water bombs, squirting shaving cream tubes and pumpkins were sent home by the police and gave no further trouble.

The Sheriff's office picked up five boys trying to paint a large '56 on the Carmel High School football field and booked them for destruction of property.

Judge Ray Baugh this morning in Monterey Municipal Court demanded that bail of one of the youths arrested by the Carmel Police be confiscated as he did not appear in court. The three others demanded court trial which was held this morning and their cases dismissed after hearing.

Two of the offenders at Carmel High School, arrested by the Sheriff's office, were certified to juvenile court as they were under 18. The other three were admitted to probation for one year on conditions of strict good behavior; they pay a $25 fine; and lastly go to the principal of Carmel High School and tell him they were directed by the court to mow the strip of lawn which they had painted each week until it was restored to its original condition.

Gregory Millar In Carmel Nov. 12

Gregory Millar, conductor of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra, expects to be back in Carmel on November 12. He has been singing tenor roles with the New York City Opera Company since he left here in September. During his absence the orchestra has been rehearsing every Monday night at the high school under assistant conductor Walter Kelsey and associate conductor Raymond Duste.

First Carmel concert of the 1956-57 season will be on November 19 at 8:30 o'clock in Sunset Auditorium. David Abel, brilliant young violinist, playing this year with 36 major orchestras throughout the United States, is soloist for the first concert. He will play the Beethoven Violin Concerto. Also on the first symphony program are Samuel Barber's Essay for Strings and Tschaikowsky's Sixth Symphony.

Season tickets may be obtained at the Symphony office in the Pine Cone Building, Dolores and Eighth Streets, or by calling MA 4-2950 after 1:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

PADRES CLIP KING CITY, 19 TO 0; JUNIOR-VARSITY UPSET

Playing one of their best games of the current season, Carmel High school's varsity football team scored in the first, second, and fourth quarters to whip a stubborn King City eleven, 19 to 0, last Saturday afternoon at Bardarson Field. While the Padre varsity ran and passed to a rather easy win, the Little Padres were rudely upset by the underdog King City Ponies, 13 to 6. This was the first league loss for the Carmel junior-varsity and throws the title up for grabs by four teams. Gonzales, King City, Pacific Grove, and Carmel have now lost one game in league action and the stage is set for the crucial tilts on November 10.

In notching win number four, the Padre varsity again put together a stonewall defense which limited the Mustangs to less than 50 yards total. Carmel's stalwart defensive line of Joe Mason, Mike Meheen, Phil Durbrow, Fred Nelson, Art Wilkerson, and Bob Durbrow played with perfect teamwork and were ably supported by a pair of hard-tackling linebackers, Charley Dawson and Terry Wilson. While the defensive unit was smothering the King City offense, the Padres were putting together 18 first downs and 358 yards to manufacture the winning touchdowns. Charley Dawson led the Padre ground-gainers, hitting on off-tackle keeper plays for consistent gains. Clyde Klaumann, senior fullback, picked up several long gainers on screen pass maneuvers which moved the red and grey into scoring territory.

Carmel got touchdown number one after a 65-yard drive carried to the King City 4 yard line where Charley Dawson powered off tackle for the score. Dawson's conversion attempt was blocked. Touchdown number two came on a peculiar forward-lateral play which was slightly reminiscent of the old St. Mary's fumble play. Dawson passed to Bob Durbrow who rolled the ball to Bill Hook on an intended lateral and Hook scooped it up for a touchdown. Dawson's conversion was good and Carmel had a halftime lead of 13-0. A nicely executed forward pass from Dawson to Bob Durbrow produced the Padre's third touchdown, faking the defense out of position, Durbrow caught the ball behind the secondary and had clear sailing to the goal line. Dawson's conversion attempt was wide and the final reading on the scoreboard was—Carmel 19, King City 0.

Coach Rainer's junior-varsity aggregation was plagued by penalties and a strong King City forward passing game as they lost their first league game of the season. Two long scoring plays off forward passes produced both King City scores while the usually potent ground game was stymied by frequent offside penalties. The Little Padres got on the scoreboard first as Bob Goldwater powered over for a first quarter score. King City came back in the second period to deadlock it at 6-6. The third period was scoreless but the visitors connected with a 70 yard pass play in the late stages of the final period to wrap it up. While the Padrecito offense had an off day, the strong defensive play of Alan Eaker, Mike Raggett, Hal Gregerson, and George Blanks served to keep the Pony running attack under control.

PADRES HOST SUNNYVALE HIGH SATURDAY

Carmel High's varsity and junior-varsity football squads draw a bye in league play this week and will play hosts to the strong Sunnyvale High School gridders. This will be the first and probably last meeting between Carmel and Sunnyvale as the difference in size precludes any future football games between the two schools. Sunnyvale has a student body of over 1000 while the Padres are lucky to muster up 400. Only two years old, Sunnyvale doesn't have seniors in the school this year so the competition should be fairly equal for this game. The visitors have a season record of 5 wins and 1 loss which stacks up identical with the Carmel's record for this season. Coach Fred Lindsay's gridders operate from the T, spread, and single wing formations and boast a fullback who is among the high scorers in Northern California. Two weeks ago, Sunnyvale clipped Tom Burt's undefeated Los Altos eleven, 32 to 13, to take over the top spot in their league.

Carmel's junior-varsity will drop all the seniors from the lineup for the 12:30 joust with the Sunnyvale Frosh-Soph aggregation. This game will give Coach Rainer an opportunity to look over his freshmen and sophomore reserves under actual game conditions. The Padre junior-varsity will go with an opening lineup of Robin Way and Bill Hicks, ends; Norman Colman and Hal Gregerson, tackles; Mike Raggett and John Morse, guards; Al Eaker, center; Roger Fremier, quarterback; Armin Jones, fullback; Jim Lee and Pete Phillips, halfbacks.

Bert Macahilig, speedy junior-varsity halfback, will be elevated

Flint Floors Is In New Location

Mr. and Mrs. T. James Flint now are operating their floor covering store, Flint Floors, from a newly expanded and more convenient location. The new premises, on Seventh Avenue, near Dolores, are just around the corner from the former Flint Floors location, which was on San Carlos near Seventh Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Flint have taken over the attractive and spacious location formerly occupied by a paint and wallpaper store on Seventh Avenue. The new store permits a very comprehensive display of linoleums, vinyl tile and formica samples, as well as a wide range of carpeting. The interior is colorfully decorated with wallpaper murals, and is painted a soft green. The new store also allows for more convenient stock arrangement and the handling of a wider variety of floor coverings and maintenance supplies.

Mr. and Mrs. Flint have been Peninsula residents for close to a decade. Three years ago they opened their first floor covering store in their former San Carlos location. "Jim" Flint was engaged in building and contracting in this community for many years before he engaged in the retail business. The Flints, originally natives of Seattle, live in Carmel Valley with their four daughters: Shirley, 14, a freshman at Carmel High; Cynthia, 9, and Janet, 7, both of whom attend Carmel Valley Elementary, and Carol, 5, the family "mascot" who has yet to begin her education.

to varsity ranks for the Sunnyvale game. The highscoring senior half-back appears to have varsity potential and will have an opportunity to see if he can go against the big boys Saturday afternoon. Improved performance by Dennis Peavey, Terry Wilson, Malcolm Burdis, and Cim Conway has given the Padre varsity some much-needed reserve strength with which to counter the speed and size of the visitors from Sunnyvale.

While Carmel is taking on a non-league opponent Saturday afternoon, the other schools in the B division have league games Friday night. League-leading Hollister entertains the Gonzales Spartans in a game which is vital to the whole league. A win for favored Hollister will wrap up the title for the Haybalers while a win for Gonzales would even up the league so several teams would still have a chance for the flag. At Gilroy, the Pacific Grove Breakers will be favored to hand the Mustangs their fourth loss of the season. The Breakers will be in top shape for this one and should get the job done by two or three touchdowns. King City should get back on the victory trail as the Mustangs host the last place Live Oak eleven. Although the Oaks haven't won a game this season, they have improved with each outing and gave Gilroy quite a scare last Friday before bowing, 14 to 7.

NAPA JUNIOR COLLEGE AT MPC SATURDAY NIGHT

Coach Bill Abbey's Monterey Peninsula College Lobos return to the MPC stadium Saturday night for a non-league battle with the Napa JC eleven. Since the 39-6 lesson from the powerful Menlo Oaks, the Lobos journeyed to East Contra Costa and earned a 6-6 deadlock with the Vikings. Free from the virus bug which has sidelined so many of the players in recent games. Abbey's charges are in top shape for this one and are anxious to post another win on their 1956 record. Napa's record is comparable with that of the Lobos and Saturday night's game should be an even-up affair.

The Lobos will also be at home next week, hosting the San Jose Junior College in a conference game. San Jose is currently resting in second place in the league standings and have a chance to reach the top next Saturday when they engage the frightening Menlo Oaks.

Shreve M. Archer, Jr., and Dr. George K. Nelson have been elected to the board of Applied Radiation Corporation (ARCO) Walnut Creek, California. Archer, a native of St. Paul, in 1946 married Stephanie Doud of Carmel. They moved to California in 1953 where Shreve has several business interests.

ARCO produces linear electron accelerators, which promise to become one of the principal sources of radiation for commercial uses, and other electronic equipment.

The newly elected directors are both associated with Archer-Daniels-Midland which has acquired a 50% interest in ARCO: Archer is a member of the board of directors of ADM and Nelson is director of the Company's development department.

Archer joined ADM in 1945 and was elected a director in 1948. In 1953 he resigned to locate in California because of business interests on the West Coast. While with ADM, Archer was connected with grain merchandising, oil sales, and fibre and dehydrated alfalfa meal. Since leaving, he has represented the California Malting Company in northern California. In addition to being Director of ADM and ARCO, Archer is presently vice president of UNIPARR, INC., Palo Alto, California. He attended St. Paul and Phillips Exeter Academics and Princeton University. During World War II he served three years as a flying instructor with

C.N.P.A. DIRECTOR'S MEETING

The Board of Directors of the California Newspaper Publishers Association will meet on Friday and Saturday at Del Monte Lodge. President Seymour C. Sterling will call the quarterly meeting to order immediately following luncheon on Friday. Approval of plans of the Convention Committee for the Sixty-ninth Annual Convention at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco will be on the agenda. Convention dates are February 7-10, 1957.

GRAND NATIONAL OPENS AT COW PALACE

The fanfare of a huge gala event — flags, bunting and music, with the arena packed for the grand opening — will usher in the 12th annual Grand National Livestock Exposition, Horse Show and Championship Rodeo at the stroke of 8:00 o'clock Friday evening in the Cow Palace.

Much of the opening night pageantry will come from the colorfully uniformed mounted sets of fours from many units of the California State Horsemen's Association who will parade their horses, colors and flags before thousands.

Continuing for 10 days, the biggest show of its kind will bring to fans, old and young alike, a taste of the Old West, with thrills galore and fun for everyone, not to mention the awards of more than $157,000 in premiums and trophies for livestock, riding events and rodeo contestants. Attendance records for the Grand National, staged annually by the No. 1-A District Agricultural Association, are expected to be broken, which is indicated by the heavy advance sale of tickets.

Stock and horses—the greatest number entered to date for any show—have been arriving for more than a week. Cowhands from all major rodeo events around the country, as well as blooded livestock and horses, will go to make up the show of 1956.

CAR WRECK

Roy Nathaniel Gibson, 21, employed since Monday as cleanup man at the Hob Nob Restaurant is a patient in the Salinas Valley Hospital with major injuries received last night when his car overturned on East Garrison Road. Ernest P. Reed, passenger in the car, is in Fort Ord Hospital not so seriously hurt as Gibson.

Gibson went off the road sixtenths of a mile east of the East Garrison gate, ran into a barbed wire fence and turned his car on its side.

The Time Has Come .

By Kippy Stuart

Do you live on a "jumping-off" place? I do, and the erosion of my hillside was a problem for many years. I watched my hillside recede and take valuable land from the property. Great gullies, where winter rains washed down, began to scare me. It looked at one time as though the arroyos being formed were about to invade my living room. There was no possibility of a revetment. The hillside was too steep to do anything about. What to do?

I consulted an expert. Arthur Hyde from Watsonville is my expert on all matters pertaining to gardens or land. And — Mr. Hyde solved my problem just-like-that! And so simply, with no expense. We hied ourselves to the Carmel river and plunged into a grove of natural willows. No . . . we did not trespass. Walt Pilot kindly gave his permission. There we cut what looked like kindling wood. Great heaps of willow sticks, about one inch in diameter and about one foot long, some less. Our car trunk was filled to the brim. Now planting trees on a steep hillside has its problems, but not with willows. All we did was to hammer these willow sticks into the ground, right-side-up . . . or upside-down. It doesn't matter with a willow, she grows anywhere. We placed these willow sticks about one foot apart, from the brim of the hillside, all the way to the bottom. It looked like the machinations of an idiot when it was finished. Rows and rows of kindling wood, hammered into the hill, forming a mystic maze.

This operation occurred in November, 1954. Those sticks began to sprout almost at once and today I have, not only a hillside retaining wall, but a lovely screen as well. You see, I live on the brink of Hatton Fields Mesa, where once vast artichoke fields pleased the eye. No more. That one "green belt" has been destroyed and without my willow trees, I would look out on garbage cans and clothes lines. Willow trees are such a tender green and so willing to grow. The roots are now firmly spread along my hillside and no more erosion.

You would imagine that there were only whisps of green growing, not oh no, not with willows. There are now, only two years from the planting period, willow trees, some fifteen feet tall, and they keep growing. They bend and chatter and keep up a continuous conversation, telling me how happy they are to be of service, and to bring beauty to the landscape.

S. F. B. Morse, Jr.

Samuel Finley Breese Morse Jr., 48, son of S.F.B. Morse, president of the Del Monte Properties Company, was found dead in his San Francisco apartment on Saturday afternoon. The exact cause of death is to be determined by autopsy. Morse had been ill for several days.

Mr. Morse was a graduate of Phillips Academy in Andover, Massachusetts. He was a member of Swayne and Hoyt, San Francisco shipping firm for 17 years prior to World War II. In 1942 he joined the Army Transportation Corps and served 16 months in the African campaign, and at various stations in the United States.

After the war he founded and was vice-president and half owner of the Allied Travel Service Corporation of San Francisco until his death.

Besides his father, he is survived by a son, S.F.B. Morse III, a freshman at the University of California; his mother, Mrs. George Richardson, of Rancho Santa Fe; a sister, Mrs. Kenneth S. Walker of Rancho Santa Fe; a brother, John Boit Morse of Santa Barbara; and a half sister, Mrs. Richard Osborne of Pebble Beach.

Private funeral services were held in San Francisco.

CHURCH WOMAN'S AUXILIARY ANNOUNCE WAY"FAIR"

The Woman's Auxiliary are sponsoring The Way"Fair" which is being held by all groups in the Church of the Wayfarer on November 9. Mrs. John R. Christie is General Chairman and Mrs. Alex G. Bolm is treasurer.

The "Fair", which will be held in the Church building, will be open at 10:00 o'clock and will culminate in the evening with a concert by the Red Diamond Chorus of the 5th Infantry Division from Fort Ord.

The various rooms in the Church building will be in charge of the committee members. The Children's Corner will have Mrs. Henry Bell and Mrs. Lloyd Kindall, The Apron Arcade with Miss Zeala Wright, Home cooking and kitchen articles in charge of Mrs. Harry Beshore and Mrs. E. Leigh Mudge. Attic Treasures will be interesting with Mrs. C. A. Neddersen. The Snack Bar and luncheon preparation is in the hands of Mrs. K. Fillmore Gray and her committee. The men of the Wayfarer will be looking after the Garden Court and Mrs. Floyd O. Carter's driftwood arrangements will again be an attraction. There will be Christmas gifts and decorations, and many other things in which to be interested.

New kind of Ford makes record run of decisive importance to '57 car buyers!

A new 1957 Ford traveled 50,000 miles at an average speed of better than 108 mph . . . including all pit stops . . . to smash 458 National and International records in a single test!

Never before has any car been so severely tested . . . so successfully proved!

Just recently—on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah, two new '57 Fords completed the most exhaustive endurance test in history—under supervision of the United States Auto Club and the Federation Internationale de Automobile. They were Ford-prepared pre-production models, exact duplicates of models which your Ford Dealer now has for sale.

These Fords completed the 50,000 mile run in less than 20 days. One averaged 108.16 mph for the entire run . . . the other over 107 mph. These averages include time for all pit stops.

The test shows without qualification what Ford's new Thunderbird V-8 engines* will do. But this was no mere demonstration of speed! It was a convincing demonstration of the superior quality of the whole Ford car.

It shows the superior endurance of Ford's running gear, brakes, body materials, steering—every part of the car. For without such built-in stamina, Ford could never possibly survive such torturous treatment.

Such a test can't help but make the decision easier for people who prize truly outstanding performance and durability in a new automobile . . . and who want the fullest possible value from their new-car dollars.

*Available in a wide range of horsepower to meet every need. Includes a special 270-hp Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine available at extra cost. Also, an extra-high-performance Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine delivering up to 285 hp.

Turi's First Concert, Carlos Montoya, Promises Good Quality To Follow

By Bob Kaller

Carlos Montoya, one of the world's greatest flamenco guitarists, performed at Sunset Auditorium, this past week end, before an audience that gave every indication of appreciating his tremendous talent.

Montoya, a Madrid-born gypsy, has been hailed as just as outstanding in his specialty, as Segovia is acknowledged to be in the realm of the classics. Beginning his career at the age of 14 in Barcelona, Montoya later served with the Spanish Army in Morocco, afterwards touring Europe and the U. S. as soloist with La Argentina and other noted dancers.

Notable in Montoya's playing Saturday evening was the spare simplicity of his style. There were no flourishes, no ham theatricals and no striving for effects. A great artist simply interpreted the soul of Spanish music. Fortunately the music fitted in well with the drab background of the Auditorium stage, which otherwise might well have been depressing. There was no decoration whatsoever, but the warmth of Montoya's personality made this seem just right.

Montoya started with a popular dance rhythm of Andalusia, followed by a Fandaguillo as played by Helva guitarists. Then came a Cuban plantation flamenco, an ancient 'cante jondo' or 'music of the soul' number and two pieces dedicated to La Argentina and Manolete, the matador. All of these were extremely brief, and although the technique was superb, they were so short that there was actually no time to develop a theme. Each was more hinted at than expressed.

The second part was a bit more extended in treatment and afforded an opportunity to enjoy Montoya's understanding of his music as well as to marvel at his fingering. A flirtation dance from Cadiz, a Moorish theme from Jerez, and a bullfighter's salute all provided haunting themes reminiscent of the moody, tortured, flat plains of Spain. Montoya then played a Saeta, as performed in the Holy Week processions in Sevilla, performing unbelievable feats of evocation with the guitar, in this, perhaps his finest number, he painted as an artist would with a palette, the sombre lights and shadows of the tremendously moving religious processions of the South, sketching in the piety, the laughter, and the brooding of the participants in his music.

A series of numbers from the gypsy caves of Spain brought the program to a close and the audience to its feet, cheering. Montoya had to do a series of encores before the crowd would release him.

Arline Turi, who brought the guitarist to Carmel in the first of a series of music and dance events by top artists, had an auspicious debut as an impresario, and a richly merited one with Montoya, she incidentally proved a contention long held by this reviewer, namely that it's almost always possible to draw a good house for a top calibre performer.

Montoya, who is currently writing a good deal of flamenco music, is one of the few guitarists of this or any other generation who can use either hand with equal facility, and his virtuosity in this directions was one of prime reasons for the audience's entrancement.

"California Must Not Gamble WITH NATIONAL DEFENSE"

Lieut. Gen. James H. Doolittle, USAFR

"We must not gamble on National security. Oil is critically important to defense and we can't afford to waste it.

"PROPOSITION 4 will strongly affect our military strength."

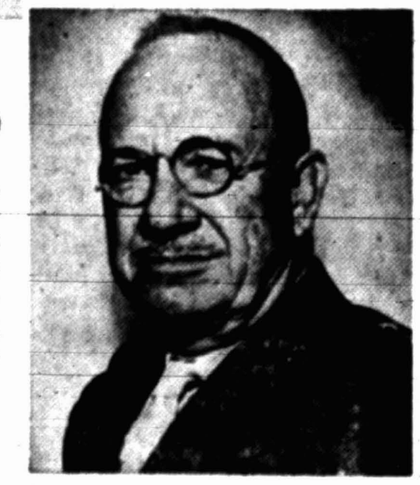
Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, USN

"PROPOSITION 4 is a true Conservation measure which will enhance the State's economy and contribute to the National security."

General Omar N. Bradley, USA

"PROPOSITION 4 is of paramount importance to our National defense.

"The current Suez Canal situation is a reminder of the imperative need of reducing our dependence on foreign oil."



General Holland M. Smith, USMC (Ret.)

"America must maintain the greatest possible production of oil to make an aggressor Nation think twice before attacking.

"PROPOSITION 4 will lessen our dependence on Middle East oil."

OUR MILITARY LEADERS, such as those shown above, are men highly regarded for their integrity. Just a few short years ago, when a world war threatened our safety on two coastlines, men such as these made the decisions that were vital to our National security. That they and hundreds of other leaders of real integrity now endorse PROPOSITION 4 as a beneficial oil conservation measure is assurance to the voters of the measure's merit.

RETAIN ARCH BALCHIN SUPERVISOR

On His Record of: ☆ Solid Accomplishment ☆ Construction Experience | ☆ Business Economy ☆ and Personal Integrity

Men and Women of the Carmel Area: Managing fast growing Monterey County is a fulltime job. It takes $12,000,000 per year (everybody pays direct or indirect taxes) to run our county government and give us the roads and services we are entitled to. Let's reward Supervisor Arch Balchin for a fine job of representing us FULL TIME. His record of solid accomplishment, business economy, construction experience, AND personal integrity is unquestioned.

BE SURE TO VOTE FOR ARCH BALCHIN AS SUPERVISOR

SUPERVISOR BALCHIN'S RECORD:

DURING 1 YEAR FULL TIME SERVICE
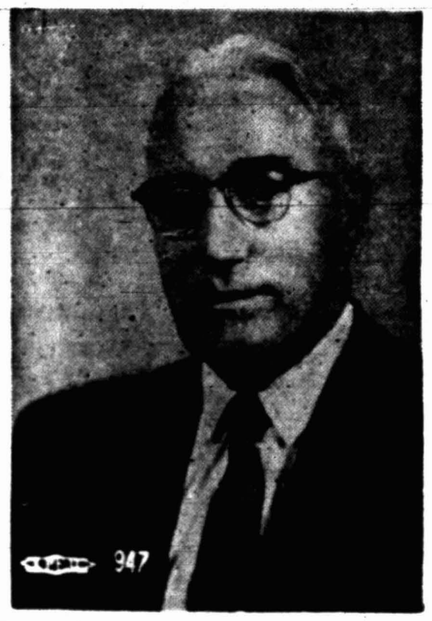
SUPERVISOR BALCHIN HAS:

1. Been personally responsible for cutting 5c on County Tax rate: $150,000 savings to taxpayers THIS YEAR.
2. Strongly backed "Pay as You Go" financing—proven economy.
3. Worked for better roads. In last year 56 miles of our Peninsula county roads sealcoated—an impressive record.
4. Worked to stop Carmel-Carmel Valley Floods. U. S. Engineer Corps' ok for federal river clearance under study in Washington.
5. Persuaded Supervisors to REVERSE decision to abandon Monterey Health Clinic.
6. Obtained Youth Guidance Center for Monterey Peninsula.
7. Initiated County participation with City of Monterey for land purchase for County Service Buildings on Peninsula.
8. Actively worked at County level for Monterey Beach Recreation area. State Parks Division has agreed to purchase. Negotiations under way.
9. Actively worked for needed Scenic Road connecting Pacific Grove, Carmel Hill Gate and Monterey via Presidio. New road is "In the Works," Cities of Monterey, Pacific Grove, Army and County Road Commissioner cooperating.

BALCHIN GIVEN CREDIT FOR HOLDING DOWN COUNTY TAXES

Supervisor Arch Balchin was given credit in a front page editorial of the Peninsula Herald October 10 for single handedly refusing to raise taxes an added 5 cents, which the other four supervisors solidly desired.

This five cents per $100 assessed valuation amounts to a saving to each home owner that is welcome in these days of high enough taxes as it is. Let's give Supervisor Balchin full credit!



Arch Balchin

Since his appointment, Supervisor Balchin has missed only one meeting of the BOARD of SUPERVISORS.

ARCH BALCHIN'S BACKGROUND:

Supervisor Balchin is a self mad man. Began work as a laborer, on concrete for P. G. & E. Rose rapidly as he tried to do his best work on each job. Became successively apprentice electrician, card carrying Journeyman member of Electrical Workers Union, foreman electrical crew, general district foreman in charge of engineering, construction & maintenance then district manager, in charge of all phases of operation. His rapid rise was due to his own hard work. While doing a good day's work he completed more than 30 extension night courses, each of which helped fit him for a better job. Married, grandfather of five fine children. Senior Warden, St. Mary's Episcopal Church in Pacific Grove. Past president, Monterey Kiwanis Club; served often as director.

WHITAKER, RUSSO AND FRY STRONGLY ENDORSE BALCHIN

Unanimously, former candidates for Supervisor in the primary election Ed Whitaker, Buck Russo and Tinsley C. Fry today reiterated their strong plea for the election of Supervisor Arch Balchin Nov. 6.

The strongly worded plea of these three public spirited men, who love the Peninsula and have spent much of their lives here in public service was: "Of the two candidates for Supervisor, there can be no question of choice.

We urge all our supporters in the primary, and all other voters, to cast their ballots for Arch Balchin, the incumbent supevisor. Balchin is far better qualified by background, training and experience to serve us in the most important job in Monterey County government."

Retain ARCH BALCHIN, FULL TIME SUPERVISOR Nov. 6th

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

We were getting so short of shelving space for the biography down in the main reading room that we moved all of our new non-fiction with the new fiction. It gave us needed space in the reading room shelves, and we had plenty of room for the non-fiction up there near the circulation desk anyway. Fiction circulates so fast when it is new that often a patron who is disappointed in his search for a new novel will find a piece of light non-fiction to take up some of his reading time, and thus not go away empty-handed. It's this business of seeing people go away empty-handed that librarians abominate.

As a result of our column here last week, we had a request for a run-down in this piece of the way the Dewey Decimal system of classification breaks down by tens. Enthusiastically, and gratefully, we hereby give you a thumb-nail sketch of the way the thing works. What we call the O-hundreds are for general works such as encyclopedias, bibliographies, indexes, and book rarities. The 100's are used for psychology, philosophy, logic, ethics, and metaphysical theories. From these grow the 200's which are for religions and theologies, both ancient and modern. The 300's are for the social sciences, politics, ecnomics, law, social welfare and education. From there we go to the 400's which are linguistics, and are divided numerically so that they take in the languages of all the world. From languages in the development of mankind; we come to the pure sciences, the 500's. There we find mathematics, astronomy, physics and chemistry, botany and biology. Then comes the applied sciences, in the 600's. These include medicine, agriculture, engineering, and building. The 700's are where man relaxes a little with the arts and recreation. Here are classed all the fine arts as well as games and theatre. The 800's are for literature in all branches and languages. And the 900's are for the history of it all, for geography and travel, and for biography. In other words, the history of man and of mankind. It all seems logical and orderly to a librarian who has studied and used the system. We hope it seems so to you also.

Perhaps we should get to the books this week. There is one on soil sterilization and while you might, at first glance, think that an odd book for this community, anyone who hobbies with house plants will tell you that a knowledge of soil sterilization is very important for them. There is also a book by David Fletcher, which tells of adventures on a tea plantation near Darjeeling, and the title of the book is Himalayan Tea Garden. And while we are in far places, there is Richard Walter's new one entitled Canary Island Adventure.

With everyone buying houses, or selling houses and buying larger ones, we thought a good book on mortgages might fill a need, and so we have Willis Bryant's Mortgage Lending; Fundamentals and Practices. It seems sound and very complete. The author is on the faculty of the University of California. There is a new book on magic, the kind you do to entertain at parties, and there is a book that will bring magic to your menus. This last one is called French Home Cooking. And there are five new novels. All of them waiting for you.

Conservation On The March

A Weekly Column by
C. Edward Graves
Western Representative,
National Parks Association

CONSERVATION CONCEPTS

The Conservation Foundation (30 East 40th St., New York) has recently published a 48-page booklet entitled Concepts of Conservation. The Foundation, which was established in 1948 under the presidency of Fairfield Osborn, has for its purpose, in its own words, "to promote greater knowledge about the earth's resources, its waters, soils, minerals, plants and animal life; to initiate research and education concerning these resources and their relation to each other; to ascertain the most effective methods of making them available and useful to people; to assess population trends and their effect upon environment; finally, to encourage human conduct to sustain and enrich life on earth".

The booklet is intended to be a "guide to discussion". The six introductory pages define the field of conservation as a whole. They contain some very thought-provoking statements and definitions. One of these definitions, new to this reviewer, is: "Conservation is the effort to increase and sustain the supply of resources we now need and will continue to need for generations to come".

Pointing up the need for this kind of conservation are the following eye-opening statements: "The United States is now using up natural resources faster than man, science, and nature together are creating them. In the last 50 years alone, while our population has doubled, our consumption of power has increased eleven times, of fuel 13 times, and of paper (from wood pulp) 14 times. Today, with less than a tenth of the world's land and population, we consume more than half the world's steel; more than 50% of the world's oil; 90% of the world's natural gas; and 54% of its commercially produced energy."

In this booklet there are four categories of renewable resources, and under each there are four or five discussion topics, with reading-lists and recommended films. The categories are: (1) Fresh water supplies; (2) Agricultural lands; (3) Forest resources; and (4) Animal life.

In a column of this length it is obviously impossible to do more than list the categories. Non-renewable resources, that is, metals and most minerals, have not been included. At the end are five suggested "General Topics", not related to any one specific resource. One of these concerns the national parks, a topic on which there has recently been much public discussion.

The heart of this question, according to the Discussion Guide, is whether with the great increase of "mechanized" vacationists that shows no sign of slackening off the character of the national parks may not be changed from that of permanent wilderness areas to amusement parks. To quote the Guide: "These great parks were set aside originally as wilderness "pleasuring grounds" for the public — in which undisturbed primeval conditions should be forever maintained".

In that connection I might offer a criticism of the discussion topic, "Problems relating to our national forests", on Page 32. There is no mention in this topic of the established Wilderness Areas in the various national forests, and yet problems relating to these areas are among the most insistent that the Forest Service has at the present time. In fact, in my opinion Wilderness Conservation deserves a category of its own in any discussion of the broad general subject.

JOHN NESBITT WRITES UP BELVA LOCKWOOD

Big Sur-Carmel writer John Nesbitt has built in some election week spirit for his Telephone Hour (KSBW-TV Channel 8) story 5:30 Sunday afternoon.

Calling it, She Also Ran, Nesbitt has told the experiences of Belva Lockwood, the only woman ever to run for the Presidency of the United States. Laura LaPlante, star of silent films, will enact the role.

Duarte Exhibition At Cannery Row Naive, Competent

John Duarte, a young Los Angeles painter now living in Santa Cruz, this month has his first one-man show at the Cannery Row Gallery.

Duarte paints people—his people, the Mexican, and with his sensitive brush they become the archetype of all people. He makes real the poetic loneliness and patient dignity of the minority people everywhere. In free, rhythmic, rather heavy line, he delineates his two-dimensional forms with limited color, sombre and harmonic.

The Peon is almost a drawing—yellow background for the face and figure of a toil-worn man, a true and simple expression. Guitar Player, is a tapestry like painting composed in strongly rhythmic line and shape.

One of the most arresting paintings is Woman in Church, restrained in color with a sombre overtone. It is a splendid portrayal of primitive devotion. Old Couple is also restrained in color with articulate heavy line enclosing the two detached figures. Here is dignity, understanding and strength.

In bold color Two Revolutions still contains the haunting loneliness which might almost be considered the theme of Duarte's people. Man with a New Hat is the gayest of his paintings, although the color is muted. This painting, quite contemporary in idiom, while harmonious and sensitive in form and color, doesn't quite project as does the rest of the show.

Three drawings are shown. Blind Boy, charcoal on a dull blue background, has rich fullness of form and is executed with great delicacy of expression.

The Cannery Row Gallery is to be congratulated in presenting Duarte . . . naive, honest, strong and competent . . . a poet-artist with a singing line, albeit the theme is somewhat melancholy.

The show will remain on exhibition until November 15.

—Hazel Dreis.

SEVEN CLASSIFICATIONS ON TABLE SETTING CONTEST

There will be seven types of settings competing for prizes at the second annual table setting contest at Fort Ord Soldier's Club, November 14 and 15.

They include luncheon, tea time, dinner, buffet, barbecue or patio. Also, there are international and exotic classifications.

Mrs. Fenton Grigsby is in charge of tea arrangements, with Mrs. Thornton Allen as chairman of the tea hostesses. Members of the MPVS will serve as assisting hostesses under the chairmanship of Mrs. Howell Armor.

Co-chairman of the dinner will be Mrs. Thomas N. Sibley and Mark Thomas.

Mrs. F. L. Knudsen has charge of judges, rules and regulations.

Decorations will be supervised by Mrs. Gladys R. Johnston. Placement of tables will be under the direction of Clarence Atwood, and Ed and Pat Bliss will handle ticket distribution.

Assisting on coordinating details are Mrs. R. Phillips, Mrs. Charles W. Allaire and Miss Willie Barnhill. Publicity chairman is Ed Coffin and the official photographer is Mel Pankratz. Frank Adams is director of the USO.

UNCENSORED!...

ATTORNEY GENERAL BROWN: "I shall vote against Proposition 4...the intent of this bill is to give the oil companies an advantage over the State ...It is unwise to by-pass the legislative process..."

LT. GOVERNOR POWERS: "I shall vote NO on Proposition 4...I have implicit confidence in the Legislature...In view of the Attorney General's findings, tidelands leasing programs might be handicapped for years..."

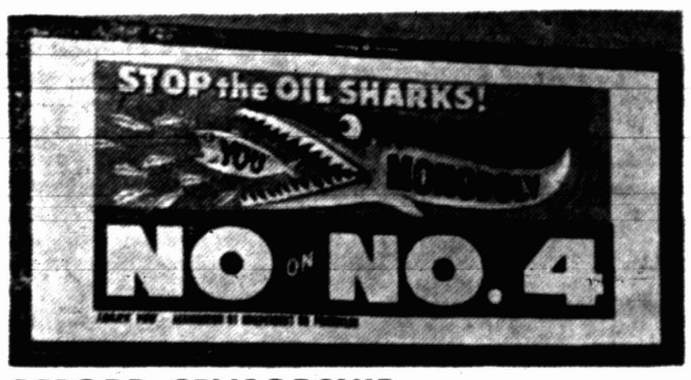
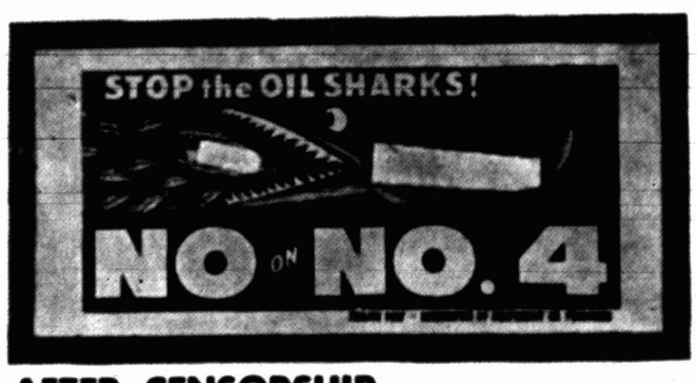
CENSORED!... ...by STANDARD OIL



BEFORE CENSORSHIP...

This billboard contains uncensored copy CONDEMNING PROPOSITION NO. 4 AS A VICIOUS OIL MONOPOLY BILL.



AFTER CENSORSHIP...

This is one of a thousand billboards censored with strips of white paper to blot out the words "monopoly" and "you."

On October 10, Standard Oil Company—a principal backer of Proposition No. 4—wrote a letter to California outdoor advertising companies objecting to the word "monopoly" in poster copy submitted by opponents of Proposition No. 4. The next day six companies refused to permit the words "MONOPOLY" or "YOU" on the posters. Six other companies —small independents—refused to be pushed around by Standard Oil and posted the original copy. Today, throughout California, these butchered billboards stand as shameful witnesses to Standard Oil's might. They prove that—WHAT STANDARD WANTS, STANDARD GETS—UNTIL NOW!

Republicans, Democrats, Labor, Veterans, Businessmen, Legislators, Civic Leaders all say:

"PROPOSITION NO. 4 IS NOT CONSERVATION—IT IS MONOPOLY"

VOTE NO ON NO. 4

"Separate Rooms" Is Good Opener For Guild

BY ELIZABETH LAWRENCE

The Theater-in-the-Ground, the intimate playhouse constructed under the stage of the Forest Theater, inaugurated its fall-winter season Friday night with Separate Rooms, a fast-paced comedy ideally suited to the requirements of this unique theater.

Cole Weston has directed his cast of young actors—most of whose work is familiar to local theater-goers—with pace and skill. Separate Rooms proves an ideal choice because of its humor, lightness gaiety, and the production meets its requirements ably in setting, lighting, and casting.

The play, written by the late Alan Dinehart, in collaboration with Joseph Carole, presents an amusing portrait of that "glamor" sector of New York peopled by actresses, playwrights, newspaper-radio columnists and other folk in the theater world.

Robert Martinson, in what proves to be Separate Rooms' key role, does an excellent job as the caustic, newspaper-radio columnist suffering from "mental dyspepsia." Mr. Martinson is a young actor, personable and likeable, who imbues his disillusioned newspaper man with a broad leavening of humor, helped along by the actor's diversified vocal range and skill at characterization.

Karen Bryant, as the ambitious, selfish actress, who acquires the newspaperman's young brother as husband, seems considerably more effective in the latter half of Separate Rooms after she has been mellowed by that reliable device of all playwrights—l-o-v-e.

Stan Young, who has done considerable television work in the past, is good as her young husband. Sam Karas, as Taggart, the kind of butler who considers himself one of the family, and addresses his employers casually by their first names, presents one of Separate Rooms' most amusing portraits.

The play concerns the efforts of a worldly and disillusioned newspaper man (Martinson) to break up the marriage of his playwright brother to a domineering, heartless young actress who decides to marry a youthful dramatist as a career investment. The newspaper man, with long experience in digging the dirt, effectively blackmails his new, and unwanted sister-in-law into meeting her marital duties of bed and board by threatening to expose certain aspects of her ruthless climb to fame. A surprise climax upsets his machinations, and also realigns his own life on more human terms.

Kathy Kollmer is warm and pleasing as the secretary in love with a boss "who has never made a pass" during six years of overly-devoted service. When the "pass" is at last contrived, she, Martinson, Karen Bryant and Stan Young give Theater-in-the-Ground audiences one of Separate Rooms' fastest and funniest scenes.

Rick Beck-Meyer brings a fine voice to the role of a playboy given his come-upprance by love. Floyd Adams' press agent is in the exaggerated form that playwrights often employ in depicting this much-maligned member of the working press. Oren Adams magazine editor is also a type of working newspaperwoman found oftener on the stage than in editorial offices, but no matter—these dramatic freedoms make Separate Rooms more fun to see and to listen to.

Senorita Lupita de Ensenada is given cast billing although she is only a Mexican Chihauhua. Nevertheless the pooch is an essential and very well-behaved member of Separate Rooms' list of players.

Stan Young and Jan Harris in their Manhattan apartment set, Ann Flynn in her props, Ted Weston in lighting, Hazel McClellan with her costumes, Jack James in his stage management and Walter Williams in charge of general production, all reveal awareness of the requirements of the Forest Theater Guild's Theater-in-the-Ground. Their combined efforts—along with those of director and cast—make Separate Rooms a comedy certain to give Carmelites an evening of light and amusing diversion, and one well worth a visit to the Forest Theater.

Separate Rooms plays each Friday, Saturday and Sunday night through November 18 with curtain at 8:30 sharp.

Theater in the Ground is cozy, well heated and ventilated.

Freeman Home Displays

Pictures of Mrs. Fanchon Freeman's living room are appearing in a full page advertisement in four publications this month; Better Homes and Gardens; American Home Magazine; House and Garden's Book of Building, and House Beautiful's Building and Maintenance Manuel.

The Freeman home, on North San Antonio Street, was designed and built by Comstock Associates. The living room is panelled in rough-surfaced Ponderosa pine with a warm-toned yellow oil paint brushed over the textured surface of the wood, then partially scraped off while still wet. The same color is repeated in the louvered shutters, adobe fireplace and gold tweed carpeting to produce a room of unusual warmth and charm.

Maschkes Arrive For Winter

Carmel friends of Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Maschke were delighted to receive telephone calls last weekend announcing that the Maschkes had arrived in Carmel for a six months' stay. They drove here from their home in Cleveland, Ohio, and, for the rest of this winter will occupy the Nelson home on Monte Verde Street near Thirteenth. The Maschkes found that much had happened in the lives of their friends since they left here two years ago. Last winter they spent in Florida as Dr. Maschke's health was not good enough for them to make the longer trip to California.

John S. Stanton of Carmel will speak on observations of spring and fall bird migrations at the Federal Wildlife Refuges at Bear River, Utah, and Tule Lake, California, for members of the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society on Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock in the Carmel High School Library.

Both refuges are on migration flyways and Stanton's remarks promise great interest for members and their friends.

Dr. Gross At WAC Meeting

Colonialism in Africa will be the subject of an address by Dr. Reuben H. Gross, professor of history at the University of California, on Friday evening November 2, at 8:00 o'clock in the Carmel High School cafeteria. The lecture is free, and open to the public. It is under the joint sponsorship of the World Affairs Council of the Monterey Peninsula and the Carmel Adult School, and is second of the current study group series on Africa under the direction of Mrs. Howard Clark, study group chairman of the local council. The lecturer will answer questions from the audience at the close of his talk.

Educated at Columbia and Princeton universities, Dr. Gross was a Rhodes scholar at Oxford University from 1948 to 1950. Since that time he has been a lecturer at the University of California in Berkeley, with the exception of two year's service in military intelligence work in Austria, Germany, and Washington, D.C. He has traveled widely in Europe, and has just returned from six months' travel and research in England.

Maxine Garretson Married

The marriage of Maxine Garretson to Ernie Davi took place on Saturday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock in the First Baptist Church of Reno, Nevada. The quiet ceremony was witnessed by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Earl Garretson, and her two younger sisters, Peggy and Earline.

Maxine wore a white crystalline dress for her wedding, made with low neckline, fitted bodice and full ballerina length skirt. A narrow circlet of lilies of the valley held her short veil in place. Her matching slippers were of satin and her corsage was an arrangement of white orchids. The young couple are now at home in an apartment in Oakland where Ernie is employed with the Railway Express Company.

World Community Day

World Community Day, the nation-wide observance of annual collection of relief clothing and materials for needy peoples in foreign lands will be held tomorrow, November 2, by the Monterey Peninsula United Church Women. Meeting at the First Baptist Church on Fourth and Laurel Streets in Pacific Grove, the morning program is at 11:00, the afternoon at 1:30.

Box lunch at the noon hour, with the hostess church group serving the hot drink, will give an opportunity for social contacts among the many church groups. The relief bundles from the women's organizations will be dedicated to their humanitarian service by the minister of the Baptist church at this meeting.

Kay Poffenberger To Marry

Mary Kay Poffenberger plans to give up her career as a TWA stewardess in March to marry Vincent Joseph Tomasello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tomasello of Monterey. Her engagement was announced recently in Fresno at a luncheon given by her friend Peggy Melville.

A scale model of a Trans-World Airlines plane centered the luncheon table and streamers from the plane bore the names of Kay and Vince telling the assembled guests that they were engaged. Tiny dolls wearing TWA stewardess uniforms were party favors.

Kay is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Poffenberger of Tally-Ho Inn. She attended Castilleja School for Girls, graduated from Fresno High School, spent a year at Pasadena Playhouse and another year at Monterey Peninsula College where she was a pom-pom girl. For the past year she has been flying with TWA spending two days on flights and four days at home with her parents. Kay commutes from Monterey Airport to San Francisco Airport where she joins her TWA flights.

Her fiance is a Monterey High School graduate and attended Monterey Peninsula College before spending two years with the Navy in the Philippines. He is at present employed with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company in Monterey.

Genia Beattie Engaged

The traditional box of candy passed around Mudd-Blaisdell Residence Hall at Pomona College by Genia Beattie last week announced her engagement to William E. Simpson. Genia plans to be married this summer after she graduates from Pomona as a speech and drama major.

She is the daughter of Mrs. William Douglas Beattie who has been living in Carmel since last March, and the late William Douglas Beattie, an opera singer who performed with the Metropolitan Opera in New York, the Chicago Opera Company, the San Francisco Opera and several years ago in Carmel for the Music Society.

Her fiance is the son of the late James E. Simpson of Strathmore in the San Joaquin Valley. He met Genia when they were both attending high school in Porterville where the Beatties made their home before moving here. At present Genia's fiance is stationed with the Air Force at Marana Base in Arizona. He graduated in architecture from the University of California a year ago.

On Proposition 12
When your state votes a multi-million dollar bond issue, repaying it becomes YOUR OBLIGATION!
You are entitled to be notified of any such issue well IN ADVANCE of the election—in time for study, discussion and debate.
Proposition 12 says this isn't necessary—that mentioning it in the ballot pamphlet you receive just before the election is all the notice you need.
Vote "NO" on this BLANK CHECK which would spend YOUR MONEY. Vote "NO" on Proposition 12.

CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Man's real selfhood as the spiritual image and likeness of God, not subject to sin and sickness, will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Adam and Fallen Man" will include the following (Genesis 1:27): "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them."

The unchanging perfection of God's man will be brought out in passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following (476: 28-32): "When speaking of God's children, not the children of men, Jesus said, 'The kingdom of God is within you;' that is, Truth and Love reign in the real man, showing that man in God's image is unfallen and eternal."

Vote for TEAGUE

YOUR CONGRESSMAN—NOVEMBER 6th

His Record Is Good for You!

Eight leading daily newspapers, after impartially studying Congressman Teague's record, report:

• "Rep. Teague's two years in Congress require little review for Ventura county voters who have followed his activities closely and with pride inasmuch as he is the first Representative this county has had in Congress for a generation or more . . . It is our opinion that the state would benefit by retaining such an experienced lawmaker in office."
—VENTURA STAR-FREE PRESS, Oct. 23, 1956

• "Congressman Teague has made a fine record. He has high standing in Congress where he is held in high respect by his colleagues . . . both Democrat and Republican. He should, and we believe, will be re-elected."
—SANTA BARBARA NEWS PRESS, Oct. 17, 1956

• "Congressman Teague has been effective in getting things done for his district's interest . . . We recommend him highly and look confidently to his election."
—SALINAS CALIFORNIAN, Oct. 18, 1956

• "Two votes made by Teague are two votes this newspaper thinks displayed a lot of common sense and a refreshing use of independent judgment, which is a quality one admires in a Congressman. They were on the Upper Colorado River project and the postage rate increase . . ."
—OXNARD PRESS-COURIER, Oct. 5, 1956

• "All San Luis Obispo county is delighted that $600,000 has been allotted for repair of Morro Bay harbor . . . Congressman Teague, for one, deserves a hand for his persistent work in the harbor's behalf . . ."
—SAN LUIS OBISPO TELEGRAM-TRIBUNE, Feb. 1, 1956

• "In the Congressional contest we favor Teague since a vote for him is a vote of confidence in a good record and in the Eisenhower administration . . ."
—MONTEREY PENINSULA HERALD, Oct. 26, 1956

• "We have confidence that Congressman Teague is serving his district faithfully and well and that his two years' experience increases his ability to improve his service . . . We believe he should be retained in office."
—SANTA PAULA CHRONICLE, Oct. 17, 1956

• "Teague successfully directed district programs through Congress . . . He has a record of participation in constructive legislation far beyond what might be expected of a freshman Congressman . . . this district stands to benefit from his return to Washington."
—SANTA MARIA DAILY TIMES, Oct. 24, 1956

"We Walked In The Vienna Woods — Yesterday At Sunset"

ers, from 1 to 13, you may get the picture of these remarkable air raid shelters. 12,000 men took ten years to make this Berghof Center, which lies high up in the Bavarian Alps, in the mountains which contain the famous salt mines that are still in operation after 800 years. We passed the entrance to the mines, down below, near Berchtesgaden, but did not have time to go through them. To really know the enormity of the bunkers one has to go down into and through them. We wouldn't have missed them for anything. but when we started the tour we thought it was just a visit to Berchtesgaden, a mountain resort. (The Berghof area is 1000 feet or more higher, right up amongst the Alpine peaks, though well below the timber line. From the scenic point of view, the area is magnificent, though on that day it was somewhat marred for us by our one afternoon of rain since we got away from the seaboard when we entered Germany across the Baltic from Denmark. We have had Indian summer weather all the time except that one afternoon.

From Berchtesgaden we went to the Konigsee, a beautiful Alpine lake (like a Norweigan fjord) and had a launch cruise of its entire length. From the launch we saw another Hitler retreat, known as the "Eagle's Nest" and now a restaurant reached by road and tunnel and lift. It was a great day in spite of the rain and overcast.

We have enjoyed every day in Germany and Austria, and find the people most friendly. Accommodations and food and drink are good. At Salzburg we stayed in a "Ghost House Hotel" that used to be a bishop's palance, high above the city with extensive views of the countryside. At Vienna, last night, our hotel porter got us tickets to the opera "Aida," and we had good seats in a packed house and enjoyed it very much. These are the things that make a tour's success.

The enclosed postcard is Hitler's house of which nothing but a bit of foundation now remains. The Bavarian government removed all the bombed buildings after the war in order to wipe out that blot on the nation. You will see that the American Occupation is using the area now as a resort place.

Regards from both,
Lucie and Peter Mawdsley.

Girls League-PTA Highest So Far

"Never before have the students netted so much money, $870.47," says Miss Dorothy Wright, girls' vice-principal at the High School, reporting the results of the recent Girls' League-PTA Scholarship Carnival. The PTA netted $590.06 at the same event.

Girls' League money will provide two $425 scholarships for graduating seniors. PTA funds will be used for a third $425 scholarship with the informal suggestion made that the remaining money be contributed to the permanent scholarship fund established this year by high school faculty members, Warren Edwards, Alan Aldwell and Lloyd Miller. Action of the High School PTA board is necessary before this disposition is official.

"Generosity of Carmel merchants and businessmen helped the students net so much this year," continued Miss Wright. "Besides merchandise, cash amounting to $115 was given to the students. The complete co-operation of the town with the school made the Carnival such a success and will help three seniors to go to college next fall."

Blanche Gibbs

Mrs. Blanche Marie Gibbs died on Monday evening in a local rest home after a long illness. She was the wife of Major Raymond C. Gibbs (USA Ret.) and with her husband had lived in Carmel for the past 20 years.

Before her illness Mrs. Gibbs had been an active member of the Carmel Mission Parish and was a soloist with the Mission choir. She was born in Salinas on December 21, 1889.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Gibbs is survived by her son, John Dawson Gibbs of Carmel; her mother, Mrs. Mary de Serpa of Robles del Rio; two sisters, Miss May de Serpa of Robles del Rio and Mrs. W. T. Lee of Carmel; two brothers, John de Serpa of Ventura and Richard de Serpa of Salinas; a niece Mrs. Annetta Lee Laugenour of Carmel; and a nephew, Warner W. Lee of Monterey.

Rosary was recited on Tuesday evening at the Mission Mortuary.

Requiem Mass was celebrated on Wednesday morning in Carmel Mission after brief rites at the Mission Mortuary. Entombment took place in the Roman Catholic section of the Mission Memorial Park in Seaside.

Zone C-2 Wins Final In Schultz Bout With Board

zens to be forced to go to Monterey for commercial services which may be forced out of C-2 by new stores and multiple dwellings.

He states that the inclusion of other than light industry uses in C-2 would be a "hardship" to existing commercial services in the area which might be restrained from expansion under the council decision. He thinks new light industries will be prevented from locating in the not strictly zoned district.

Howard Healey received permission to start building within 120 days a two store-eight motel units addition to his Town House at the northwest corner of San Carlos and Fifth Streets.

Both buildings fulfill interim ordinance policy of the Planning Commission for 100 per cent off-street parking for multiple dwelling units and architecture compatible with surrounding buildings.

Also under architectural matters the Commission gave permission to Dr. Howard Zellhoefer to construct a balcony at the rear of his building on Lincoln Street; allowed Harrison Godwin to cover a second story garden patio at Pine Inn with a glass roof; and will let Charles Altair enlarge a store window on Sixth Street providing the design, to be re-submitted by James Pruitt of Comstock Associates, meets with Commissioner Gladys Kiplinger's approval as to line and preservation of the lowered planting box.

Inez Dodd Pelton may divide her 100x100 foot property on Forest Road, north of Seventh Street, into two irregular building plots of 5550 square feet and 4450 square feet respectively.

Roy A. Hansen may re-divide his land at Monte Verde and Second Streets into two more accessible building sites of 4882 square feet and 4800 square feet.

Commissioner Herbert Blanks, disturbed that no Planning Commission member was attending the current League of California Cities convention in Los Angeles, made a motion that in future the City Council send delegates from the Commission to the League meetings at council expense. The motion also requested that Commission members be informed of the time of the League meetings so that they may make preparations to attend.

Blanks went to the League of California Cities convention last year and found contact with planning commission members from all over the state most helpful.

"We need the opportunity to strengthen our faltering convictions," he stated.
